Register of Foreigners

At the heart of e-Government

With the Register of Foreigners solution Genis has enabled public administration with integral capabilities for entry and processing of applications for acquiring permission for residence in the Republic of Slovenia.

The Register of Foreigners includes the entire procedure from application entry, to the processing and entry of a decision concerning the granting or rejection of residence permission.

This register includes the possibility of insight into Schengen information system or PPI (personal phonetic index) for verifying applicants (sentences, restrictions on movement...) This register also has the procedure of managing legal means or complaints concerning rejection of the application.

With this solution, public administration has acquired an efficient system for issuing permissions for obtaining permanent residence to foreigners. The register is also connected to the Permanent Population Register which simplifies the transfer and entry of data on foreigner's residence.
